The Times hopes that the visit of the Vermont Odd Fellows and Rebekahs in Barre this week has been full of pleasure to them.

In proportion to its size the little town of Danville leads Vermont in its contributions to war casualties, besides being far ahead in purchase of war savings stamps. Danville is not a slacker in the war.

Despite the allurements of their environment in the new state building in Montpelier, the supreme court did not linger one minute beyond the necessary time to conclude the business of the regular May term. The Vermont supreme court is setting a splendid example to the other courts of Vermont in the matter of expediting business.

Premier Clemenceau's statement to the people of France that the United States has promised a million and a half of fighting men (not counting the non-combatant arms of the service) in France by the end of the year is probably intended for the heartening effect that the announcement would have on the people of France. No doubt the statement was made in full confidence, founded in large part on the performance already effected by the United States, which is to say "over a half million men" in France already, as Secretary Baker enigmatically put it a short time ago. It is likely, too, that the statement was made in confidence based on the conviction that the submarine has been eliminated to the extent that transports can be kept going across the ocean in a steady stream, carrying the contingents of the American army. The effect of the announcement on the people of France must be wonderfully reassuring, taken in conjunction with what they have been privileged to see with their own eyes.

WILLIAMSTOWN

Born May 10, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Dunham.

C. James Cram has been for some time out of town on a visit to his brother, Henry Cram, who lives in Providence, R. I.

Mrs. Blaine has sold her farm, stock and tools to a man living in St. Albans, who does not intend to come here at present, but will send a man to manage the farm. Mrs. Blaine will probably move out of town and may possibly go west.

There will be a reception to the new pastor, Rev. John Robinson, in the Methodist church on Wednesday evening of next week, to which all townspeople, as well as the members of the parish, are cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Merville E. Martin of Waitsfield were in town last Sunday and called on relatives here and also attended the M. E. church, where Mr. Martin was accustomed to go as a boy.

The remains of the late Frank H. Roberts were removed from the tomb in Barre, where they had been temporarily placed, last Wednesday and taken to Chelsea, where they were buried in the family lot. A brief service was read and prayer offered by Rev. Robert Haseltine, pastor of the Methodist church in that town. Among those attending from this town were Rev. and Mrs. William N. Roberts, a sister, Mrs. Metcalf, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Flint and son, Ray Flint, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Morrison, Mrs. Hattie Goodrich, Mrs. Forrest C. Souver, Mrs. Mary Marble and George E. Wilber.

Miss Lela Cross, from the office of the firm, which has succeeded to the business and good will of the Eastern Lyeum bureau of Rochester, N. Y., was in town last Wednesday, conferring with local parties in regard to a lecture course for next winter. From here, Miss Cross went to Brookfield via the Gulf, calling on several prominent persons in that town, and finally giving a talk explaining the proposition to a meeting of the Red Cross ladies in that village. Her next stop was in Randolph Center, where the scribe, who was acting as chauffeur, saw the work now in progress on the new building of the agricultural school. Then a down grade run of three miles to Randolph, where Miss Cross was to stay for the night.

Harry and Horace Lasell, who have been at home for a few days, returned yesterday to Springfield, where they are employed. The return trip was made in one of Harry's Metz cars and they went via White River Junction, where they called on William O. Martin and family.

Secretary Baker says: "The 26th division will fight and shall not be held in reserve." Shall we support them by contributing to the second Red Cross war fund drive, May 20 to 27? Williamstown's quota is $900.

Williamstown Coal Prices.

As determined by the local fuel committee May 13, 1918:

Size	500 lbs.	1,000 lbs.	2,000 lbs.

QUICK AND ECONOMICAL TRANSPORTATION

Nash Trucks Relieve Freight Congestion

The biggest single influence at work to relieve the nation's freight congestion is the greatly extended use of high grade motor truck transportation.

Nash trucks are particularly adapted to this new truck service.

Equipped with automatic locking differentials, they get through where other trucks without this important feature cannot go.

The famous Nash Quad which drives, brakes and steers on all four wheels, is known in many countries for its excellent performance in extra difficult duty.

The two Nash rear driven trucks of one ton and two ton capacity have proved in severest service that they are worthy truck-mates of the Quad. All Nash trucks are unusually powerful, dependable and economical. An invitation will bring one of our transportation experts to show you how Nash trucks can solve your hauling problem.
